

"Whaling!" Is Applicable to Day's Success

Freshman Reporter Gets First-hand Impression of Walkout Activity.

Amateur Barbers at Work

The Inevitable Bugle Blows During First Monday Class, Starting Day's Functions.

Last Monday dawned cloudy. However, it wasn't cloudy enough to spoil the planned Walk-out Day festivities. Freshmen, to whom little birdies had whispered all week-end that this was the day, came to school with hearts quaking. Their fears were justified.

Came 8:30 A. M. and the bugle sounded announcing that the day of all days had come. The pulses of most freshmen pounded violently. Some, though, were happy about the whole thing—these being the freshmen in the 8:00 o'clock social science classes who were saved by the bugle from a test which promised to be extremely difficult.

After the assembly in which Ted Young, president of the student body, outlined the activities of the day to the freshmen, all the yearlings were herded into line at the east entrance of the Administration building.

When the long parade past the College Park on to the downtown district began, boys marched with boys and girls with girls. Upper-classmen soon remedied that situation. Girl partners were secured for all freshmen men and they, the men, were of course very happy about the whole thing.

Some of the freshmen girls, however, didn't quite agree with the proposition. One, a tiny fluff of a thing, who wore glasses and looked harmless to the Nth degree, turned out to be possessor of a terrific right. She used said right when two unsuspecting freshmen men, at the command of upperclassmen attempted to carry her. She used her right often. First victim of her pugilistic instinct was a freshman named Sifers; second, the football player, Becky Claybaugh; Her third conquest, swing hit the jaw of Neiland Thompson, upper classmen, who was at the time, attempting to demonstrate to Sifers, Claybaugh, and other freshmen the art of carrying a girl who doesn't wish to be carried. Needless to say, after Mr. Thompson became acquainted with the little lady's right hand, he ceased to be so vehement in insisting that the girl be carried.

Interesting, indeed, on the downtown trip were the antics of Joe Lauchnick who pulled a "Lone Ranger" act in the horse of a garbage man who had parked his wagon on the street.

Before the whole thing started Bill Winters, who thought that the absence of a green hat might cause dire results, obtained three of the verdant chapeaux from the heads of other unsuspecting yearlings. The extra hats were for two friends of Winters.

Whether or not the freshmen who came to the festivities prepared with three extra pairs of trousers, well padded with towels, recovered said extra trousers and towels after they had been draped neatly over downtown light poles, is unknown at the time of this writing.

One freshman who didn't quite enter into the spirit of things was Richard Aldrich who, in protest over the cutting of his over abundant hair, socked at least one upperclassman violently. After the hair-cutting episode Aldrich held himself directly into a local barber shop where the job was finished in a more professional manner.

Some of the freshmen men did robly in running the belt line at the end of the march. Robert Shankland did extremely well in this respect. He ran right out of his shoes.

The violence with which upperclassmen used the belts during the pants fanning episode is well illustrated by the fact that one belt, used by a much larger than average upperclassman was, at the end of the proceedings, much frayed. Be-

Mr. R. Main Will Read Comedy of Errors Today

The departmental meeting of speech teachers will be held this afternoon at one o'clock in Room 103. Mr. Main of the college department of speech will give a reading from Shakespeare, "The Comedy of Errors." Students from various high schools in the district will give prose and poetry readings. There will be a discussion by debate coaches on the debate question, Mr. Rudin, head of the speech department, will give a speech on the value of discussion in the speech program.

All students as well as teachers, who are interested in speech, are invited.

Max Rush Is Editor of The Log at Annapolis

A copy of "The Log," the publication of the middles of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, has been received by Mr. and Mrs. John Rush of Barnard. During the year the plebes, first year men, are allowed to publish one issue of The Log. Editor-in-chief of the September 19 issue was Max Rush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rush. The plebe class this year is the largest in history, more than 1,000 being accepted.

The naval academy has just completed construction of two wings to Bancroft hall, the largest building of its kind in the world. Construction costs were 2 million dollars to this dormitory containing 306 rooms. The Log also states that the Naval Academy will have one of its best football teams in years. The squad is coached by Carl Larson and opens its season Saturday against William and Mary.

Before going to Annapolis Rush was a student at the Teachers College where he was editor of the Missourian for a time last year and also assisted his father in publication of the Barnard Bulletin.

Library Receives Gift From Central American Student

Alfredo Cruz Presents Book Concerning the Life of Costa Rica.

"Costa Rica Ayer y Hoy"—Costa Rica Yesterday and Today—is the name of a book presented by Alfredo Cruz, the young student who is here from Costa Rica, to the library of the College. The book is inscribed, "For the Northwest State Teachers College with all the admiration which it deserves from one who comes from Costa Rica."

The book is a big volume presenting the story of Costa Rica from 1800 to 1939. It is divided into four parts: one which presents the life in its varied aspects; another which has scientific articles and studies made by natives of the country; a third which has translations into Spanish of articles and studies in various languages done by explorers and visitors in different epochs; and the fourth which contains various official documents.

The book is written in Spanish. It is full of illustrations. It furnishes to one who reads the Spanish a source of material on a country that has become interesting to the College especially since this young native of that country is on the campus. It will be remembered, too, that Carmen Madrigal and Noemi Morales claimed that country as their home.

Senior Women May Compete for Prize

Vogue Announces Seventh Career Contest to Class of '42.

College women of the class of 1942 have an opportunity to compete in the Prix de Paris. College women with a flair for fashion reporting and the ability to write may enter the contest.

Prizes offered to winners of this contest are varied. A year's job with a salary on the New York staff of Vogue is the first prize. Second is a special Vanity Fair feature writing award which is a six months' paid position with the fashion magazine. Five cash awards are made for the five best contest articles submitted. These articles are purchased for publication in Vogue. Honorable mentions are also given. The opportunity to be interviewed by department stores, newspapers, advertising agencies, and other organizations who have jobs to offer will be given to the winners of the awards.

The contest is based on four quizzes and a short article. Senior women who are interested in fashion reporting or feature writing as a career should write to Carolyn Abbott, Vogue, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City, for more details.

Lieutenant Poynter Is Flying School Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Baldwin recently received an announcement stating that Lieutenant Robert N. Poynter, of the Air Corps, was graduated from the Advanced Flying School of Barksdale Field, Louisiana, last September 26.

Lieutenant Poynter received his A. B. degree from the College in May, 1940.

Mrs. E. W. Keck Dies

Mrs. E. W. Keck, known to many of the older alumni of the College, particularly to those who lived in Perrin Hall, died last week at the St. Francis Hospital, where she had been ill for two months.

Her husband spent last week-end visiting her parents at Helena.

East Door of Administration Building--Sacred to Freshmen

Sunday Program Is Panel Discussion

"Living for a Cause" Was Mr. Rudin's Subject Last Week.

The program for the Sunday Morning Hour, October 12, will consist of a panel discussion on the topic, "Religion and The College Student."

Jesse Lundy will act as chairman and will preside over the discussion. Others who will take part in the program are: Kenneth Israel, Marlon Moyes, Jesse Lundy, Frank Ewing, Vivian Craig, Mary Margaret Tilton, and Herschel Bryant.

This type of program is something different from the type usually offered at the Sunday Morning Hour. It is hoped that this meeting will be well attended and that those who do attend will take active part in the proceedings.

The speaker at the Sunday Morning Hour held last week was Mr. John Rudin, who is a new member in the Speech Department of the College. Edna Ridge played the piano and Irene Hoover led the singing. Jesse Lundy read the first Psalm and then introduced Mr. Rudin.

In his speech, Mr. Rudin pointed out the fact that leading figures of the present day who are living significant lives are living for a cause greater than they are. Men who have "found themselves" in serving a great cause have become the leaders of the little people of the earth who also are devoting themselves to a great cause. We can see the results of this in Germany, England, and China.

Mr. Rudin went on to state that in contrast to the rest of the world, many people in our democratic society have no great cause for which to live. The result is that their lives lack significance and spiritual dynamic.

All of us, continued Mr. Rudin, need a leader and cause to direct our lives and give them significance. The life of the man who inspired Luther, Wesley, Grenfell, Kagawa, and countless millions of others for the past two thousand years to a "magnificent obsession" can do likewise for us.

Mr. Rudin then discussed the life of Jesus showing how it revealed that he was master of himself and therefore of others. Furthermore, his life was devoted to a great cause and in the service of that cause he lived and taught a way of life which gives and demands more than does the existing order in society. Mr. Rudin believes that Jesus reveals the solution of our present problems because he taught the lesson that in every man and woman there lie powers which, awakened, make them the children of God. The means of awakening man to new life is the example by his followers.

Mr. Rudin concluded his address by stating that if we need courage, poise, and serenity for today or the future we shall find them by following the life of Jesus and by daily practicing his teachings.

Clara Allen and Maxine Hoerman, college students whose homes are in Union Star, were guests during the week-end of Kathryn Lentz at New Point.

Miss Smith Will Lead Discussion on Reading

A concerted effort is being made to improve the reading of college students, according to Dean J. W. Jones of the faculty of the College. It is not only a local problem, but a national one, but he stresses the importance of the problem on the Maryville campus.

He is calling a meeting, therefore, to help the faculty to coordinate their efforts to improve the reading of the students. Miss Dora B. Smith has done considerable work in the reading for college students and has agreed to give her services in leading discussion. The first meeting will be held October 15, in Room 224, at 4:00 o'clock.

Reproduced Paintings From Moscow Are Here

Reproductions of paintings in the Moscow Museum of Soviet Art are upon display in the Exhibit Hall on the fourth floor of the Administration building. The collection embraces some 36 pictures by artists of the modern French school. "It is interesting to notice that Russia should possess as fine if not the finest collection of French art in existence," said Miss DeLuce in discussing the exhibit.

Most of the work is by impressionists and is rich and vivid in color and treatment comprising landscapes, flower studies and figure groups by Manet, Renoir, Picasso, Gauguin and many others. The exhibit will continue on display throughout the month.

Of equal interest is a chart on the fourth floor of the east corridor of the Administration building of a Ship of State, a poster suggestion made by the members of the History and Appreciation of Art class of last summer showing how the idea of Democracy can be carried out visually in related subjects. Posters on democracy are also on display.

"Vanished Herds"--Dr. E. Colbert

Dr. Edwin H. Colbert, better known to the College community as Ned Colbert, son of Mr. George Colbert of the department of Mathematics, has an article in the October number of Frontiers, a Magazine of Natural History. Dr. Colbert, an authority on paleontology, is with the Natural History Museum in New York City.

"Our Vanished Herds," is the title of Dr. Colbert's article. Based on science, it reads like romance. "The slanting rays of the early morning sun suffused the high prairie of western Nebraska with a soft light, making the wet grass a gray carpet that flowed evenly over the low undulations of the valley floor. As we drove along the bumpy trail, straight into the beacon eye that was bright but not as yet hot, the shadowy, cool west wall of the butte loomed before us, a refuge for a brief time from the gathering heat of the day."

Thus he describes his going with a party of scientist into a section of Nebraska to gather specimens. "Five antelope," he says, "leaped to pause for a moment on the sky-

Ensign V. E. Gex Is Home From Hawaii

Former College Student Is Helping Aircraft to Arrive Safely.

Ensign Virgil E. Gex, a former member of the student body of the College and brother of Donald Gex, now a student, is at home near Graham on a vacation from the Hawaiian Islands, where he is serving in the United States Navy. Mr. Gex is attached to the U. S. S. Chew, an old world-war destroyer which has been stationed in Hawaiian waters since January.

Mr. Gex has many interesting tales of his experiences to tell. Last winter when he made the trip to Hawaii, he went on board an aircraft carrier. Men on board were put through practice maneuvers. One day he was strolling casually along the deck observing what was going on when suddenly someone rushed up to him and gave him a card which read, "Lie down--you're dead." Mr. Gex followed orders and was left lying on the deck while the many "injured" were taken care of.

One of the later experiences of the former College student has been that of assisting airplanes to arrive safely. His destroyer has been following aircraft carriers to pick up planes which happen to miss the deck when attempting to land.

Mr. Gex was in the State Teachers College during the years of 1936 and 1937. He was one of the students honored by the American Association of University Professors for scholastic attainments. From Maryville, he went to the United States Naval Academy, where he received his reserve officer's commission.

Mildred Sandison, Graduate, Writes Mary Lyon Story

She Has Collaborated With Member of Staff of NEA Journal on Article.

The name of Mildred Sandison Fenner is signed to an article entitled "Mary Lyon and Mount Holyoke College," in the Journal of the National Educational Association. Mrs. Fenner, a niece of Mrs. Raymond Barry in the office of the Business Manager of the College, the former Mildred Sandison, is a graduate of the College. She collaborated with Eleanor Fishburn on the article.

The article is one of a series on great women educators. In it the authors show that they have read widely on their subject and assimilating their material, they have made Mary Lyon come alive. They have shown her struggle for an education at a time when schooling for girls was irregular and limited. They have shown how the vision of a school for girls comparable to Yale and Harvard for men grew in her mind and how she brought her vision into reality.

Her fight for education for women they show to have been an arduous struggle. The very idea was ridiculed. "It was called unnatural, unphilosophical, unscriptural, unpractical, and impracticable, unfeminine, and anti-Christian; in short all the epithets in the dictionary that begin with un and in and anti were hurled against and heaped upon it," said one of the trustees of Mount Holyoke later.

The authors show how the actual construction of building--quick and below the foundation, faulty bricks, collapsing walls--left Mary Lyon undaunted. Mount Holyoke was incorporated in 1836 and school opened November 8, 1837. "Not only Mount Holyoke, but other colleges . . . which have given to women their educational birthright," say the authors in closing, "are the lengthened shadow of Mary Lyon."

Marching Band Can Use Several More Musicians

The College Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. W. Glenn Ruff, is one of the important music organizations on the campus. This year the band has furnished music and has presented marching drills at all the football games.

Betty Drennan of Corning, Iowa, is the drum major this year. Marching behind her are five majorettes: Helen Johnson, Rosendale; Carolyn Stickerod, Rock Port; Roberta Peters, Fairfax; Mary Gates, Maryville; and Lois Jean Bunch, Craig.

Every fall the band elects three officers. Those elected this year were: president, Dennis Davidson; vice-president, Marvin Motherhead; and secretary, Maurice Cook.

The number in the band this year is not as large as usual. Mr. Ruff states that they will welcome any students who wish to play woodwinds or drums and especially the bell lyre.

Out-of-School Youth Program Is Being Established for Young Men

President and Dean to Attend Group Meeting

President Lamkin and Dr. J. W. Jones are planning to attend a meeting of the Teachers College Conference Group at the University of Chicago on October 20. The conference is made up of representatives from 15 teachers colleges in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri.

The group meets once each quarter with Dr. William Gray at the University of Chicago to discuss problems of instruction within teachers' colleges.

The morning program will consist of reports by representatives on curriculum problems. Dr. J. W. Jones will discuss, "Proposals for Studies of the Five Year Curriculum for Secondary School Teachers."

The afternoon will be spent in discussing problems relating to reading.

Coordinator for Course of Study Has Been Named

Mr. Dieterich Announces Plans and Aims of the Discussion Groups.

Mr. H. R. Dieterich was recently appointed District Coordinator for the discussion of the new Missouri Course of Study. He will head discussion groups promoted by the Missouri Association of Secondary School Principals.

The Northwest Missouri District will be divided into smaller areas called "regions," over which there will be a regional coordinator. Several administrators consented to act as regional coordinators, they are: Principal J. Olin Teasley, Cameron, who will act as coordinator of Clinton, Caldwell, and DeKalb counties; Superintendent C. K. Thompson, Mound City, will supervise Holt and Atchison counties; Principal Virgil Muse, Trenton, will be coordinator of Grundy and Mercer Counties; Principal Giles' Pheasant, Chillicothe, will have Livingston and Carroll Counties.

The purposes of discussion for the year as outlined by Mr. Dieterich are:

1. To cooperate with the National and State Administrative defense organizations in the conducting of discussion groups.
2. To plan and hold meetings of administrators, teachers and administrators, and teacher study groups by subject areas, in the study of practical problems that arise in the usage of the new state curriculum.
3. To initiate and conduct in certain schools projects and experiments in curriculum work.
4. To further the professional spirit and morale existing in Missouri school teachers and administrators.

Two From College Will Attend Capitol Meeting

Monday, October 13, President Lamkin and Dr. J. W. Jones will be in Jefferson City attending the quarterly meeting of the Educational conference.

Representatives from all the teacher training institutions in the state will meet at the State Superintendent's office. The meeting is called for the purpose of discussing problems concerning higher education and to make suggestions that will aid in the administration of higher education.

Irene Cobb Must Have Northwest Missourian

In writing to have the Northwest Missourian sent to her for the year, Miss Irene Cobb, as student here last year, says: "I must not miss out on the doings at the College. I suppose I shall always have a warm spot in my heart for the folks over there, since I have such an enjoyable year and feel I gained so much."

Miss Cobb is teaching English in the high school at Fairfax. She rooms with Miss Mildred Walker from Burlington Junction, a graduate of the College, who teaches in the seventh and eighth grades.

In closing, Miss Cobb says, "Here's hoping the College is running along smoothly and that the paper has few difficulties to face this year; I have charge of the paper here."

President Uel Lamkin Made Masonic Orator

President Uel W. Lamkin has been appointed Grand Orator for the Grand Lodge of Masons in Missouri. The appointment was made last week at the annual meeting of the grand lodge at St. Louis.

President Lamkin has long been active in Masonic work.

Organization Meeting Is Called for Seven p. m., October 15.

No Costs for Students

Woodwork, Metal Work, Auto and Tractor Mechanics, and Electricity Offered.

Co-operating with the federal government's project of defense training, a new Out-of-School Youth program of education will be organized at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, October 15, Uel W. Lamkin, president of the College, announced Tuesday.

The organization meeting will be held on that date at 7 p. m. in the Industrial Arts building on the College campus. All boys between the ages of 17 and 24, inclusive, who are not in school and who wish to take advantage of this free program of education are invited.

The defense training program is being administered in the states through the state departments of education. The plan is divided into three groups: Trade and Industry, the National Youth Administration, and the Out-of-School Youth division.

The N. Y. A. which offers aid to students enrolled in school, has been in operation at the college for some time. The Out-of-School Youth program now affords an opportunity for those between the ages of 17 and 24 who are not attending school to learn some phase of defense work.

The United States office of education in the Out-of-School Youth program specifies four branches of instruction: 1. Auto and tractor mechanics. 2. Woodwork. 3. Metal work. 4. Electricity. The first three of these courses will be included in the college program here. A course in electricity will be added later, it was announced. Instructors will be carefully selected from experts in their fields.

Work will proceed under the direction of D. N. Valk, head of the department of Industrial Arts. There will be no cost to the students enrolled in the classes--all materials and instructional costs are furnished free. The classes will meet for three-hour sessions during a period of eight weeks. At the first meeting October 15, definite plans will be made regarding the frequency of class sessions.

All boys interested in this new program of education are urged to be present at the organization meeting on October 15.

Sculpture in Soap May Win Big Prize

Details of Contest May Be Secured by Seeing Miss DeLuce.

The National Soap Sculpture Committee recently announced the 18th annual competition for small sculptures in Ivory soap for the Procter and Gamble prizes. This contest will close May 15, 1942. Cash prizes totaling $2,200 will be awarded in three classes--Advanced amateur, Senior, Junior, and special Group and Reproduction awards.

Classifications in the contest are as follows:

Advanced Amateur
(For adults, 21 years of age and over.) First Prize, $200; Second Prize, $150; Third Prize, $100; and Ten Honorable Mentions of $25 each.

Writers' Club

The Writers' Club will meet at the apartment of Miss Mattie M. Dykes, at 611 North Buchanan, Wednesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Members are asked to bring manuscripts. Visitors are welcome to attend or to submit manuscripts.

Faculty Meeting

The professional faculty meeting will be held in Social Hall, Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

Sunday Morning Hour

Attention is called to the Sunday Morning Hour at the Horace Mann Auditorium at 9:30 o'clock.

Accept Compliments

The several committees for Walkout Day should be commended for the efficient manner in which the activities were conducted. Order was maintained throughout the day, that is, as much order as one would want on Walkout Day. The entertainment was excellent. The talent uncovered from the Freshman Class will prove valuable in future college productions. The food was good and in sufficient quantities for the hungriest "walk hungry" student. Yes, they did a fine job.

"Hooking" Rides

Not many years ago a college student was brushed off the running board of a car and under the wheels of another. The young man was injured to the extent that he was in the hospital for weeks and is now crippled for life. College students have been seen "hooking" rides in this manner from time to time. It is a dangerous practice, particularly on the narrow, winding roads about the college campus. Lets hope there will be no repetition of the accident already mentioned. There is one good way to preventing such an accident.

Quotable Quotes

"In college you might at least read a few good books."
—Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago.

"There is not that thing in the world of more grave and urgent importance, throughout the whole life of man, than is discipline."—John Milton.

"Few teachers or administrators who have been at work during the decade just ended need be told that public education is under fire. In every community there are many sincere people who turn back in their thinking to more peaceful and happy days of yore. Not knowing that thus they are only making an effort to escape reality, they regard the old days as golden, happy, peaceful days—a veritable golden age. Everything that existed in those old days is touched with a rosy glow that makes them seem ideal. Thus, when the problem of supporting the school arises, there are, in every community, a substantial number of middle-aged people who are quite ready to turn against modern school practices and who bring forth many arguments to show that the ways of teaching in their youth were much superior to those of the present. Yet seriously to attempt to impose the kind of teaching that was done in 1911 on 1941 were as futile as to attempt to abolish automobiles in favor of horses and buggies, to silence all radios, to abolish all chain stores, or to tear up all concrete highways." Orville T. Bright, president, Illinois Education Association, says that every teacher must be convincingly articulate in interpreting the modern aims of education.

"World social integration has progressed far enough for mutual interdependence but not far enough to avoid destructive competition, so that we find ourselves in a transitional phase of human evolution in which the colossal mistakes of our politicians are matched only by our colossal ignorance of basic social mechanisms. One wonders whether blood, tears, and sweat are the only price to be paid. Social wars within the same species of an insect society are practically non-existent." Dr. Alfred E. Emerson, University of Chicago zoologist, elaborates on a favorite poser: Bugs get along with their own kind. Why can't people learn?

From the Dean

The end of the mid-winter will come on October 23rd. It is not unusual for mid-quarter examinations to come about the same time. It is much better to have a sleep-up on your work than to wait until the end of the quarter.

You enrolled in college with a firm resolution to do good work. Now you are to have an opportunity to demonstrate your accomplishment. The welfare of the boys and girls you will some day teach justifies your best efforts. You will not fail them, I am sure.

—J. W. JONES.

Ginger Snaps

Walkout Day Flashes (as a Freshman sees things): Some girls got taken for a ride (meant literally). How did they rate it?
Why did the freshman boys get their hair cut? That looks like a trick freshman might play on upperclassmen. Surely these upperclassmen have outgrown freshman tricks.
What's this joke about the "venerable heel of Achilles?"

A Prayer for America

Oh God, let me be an American.
That not for the name alone.
Let me feel the height and splendor of her mountain peaks—
Let me take into myself the steep ascent of ancient crags, the nearness to the sky.
Let me look up as her mountains look up.
Give me the calm of her quiet hills.
And when I go into her cities
There let me stand in awe
At the man-made heights of her buildings.
The architects' towering triumphs
That breathe high above the streets—
Proudly, clearly, for theirs, too, is splendor.
Let all the heights of this, my America,
Be mine
In my heart to make me aspire and hope.
Oh God, let me take into myself
The breadth of our fertile farm lands.
Let me breathe into my soul the stretch of her bearing miles.
The redolent orchards and grain fields,
The lush green of valley and pasture
Give me the vision of long straight rows
Leading far into the blue distance!
Give me the tolerance born of the seeing—
The waiting, the seed, and the nearness to soil.
Oh God, drive into my veins the power.
The pulsing strength of my country!
The millions of men—the machinery—
The crash and roar of production—
The surge of the falls and the rivers,
Of the mighty dams and constructions,
The giant force of electric energy!
Let me feel the depth of the rich resources.
The oil and the rock minerals,
Coal and the vast, deep forests.
Let it all come into me, Oh God,
That the flow of my life may be great—
May be high and broad and deep
As the life and need of my country.
Let it all come into me, Oh God,
That I may be an American,
Not for the name alone
But for the home, the vision, the power
That are deep in this, my America.

Quad Highlights

Walk-out Day over and past, few Quad residents seem much the worse for the wear. There are exceptions, however. One of the most noticeable of the exceptions is Glenn Sparks who is now possessed of a very chic hair cut.
Many N. Y. A. Trainees and college men who live at the Quad are complaining of sore muscles this week. The soreness is blamed on an impromptu game of touch football in which they participated last Sunday.

Ducky indeed was the figure cut by David Murphy when he attended classes, last week, in feminine attire. Mark Russell was cute, too, in his get-up. His already broad shoulders were made even broader with addition of shoulder guards. Both Mark and David were, of course, M Club initiates. Other initiates were also fetching, but they do not live at the Quad, and so rate no mention in this column.

At a recent meeting of all N. Y. A. trainees a recreational program for the year was established. Under the present setup, Mr. Harry Darr, Horace Mann coach, devotes one hour nightly to the recreational activities of the N. Y. A. men. The games in which the men will participate range all over the roster, from checkers to basketball. It is expected that

HOBBIES

M. R. Green of Fillmore, a senior this year, collects Chinese brass. In his collection he has vases, gongs, a candle snuffer, and a candelabra. Mr. Green considers as one of his prize pieces a temple gong etched and painted in brilliant Chinese colors. The gong is set in a blackwood frame and has a teak wood mallet. Two of the smaller gongs in the collection are set in death gate frames. These frames symbolize the Chinese conception of death.

One of his most interesting pieces is a Japanese ceremonial sword in an ivory sheath. Etching on the handle of the sword and on the sheath leads Mr. Green to think there is a story which should be translated. He is considering sending pictures of the etching to the Boston Art Gallery where one of the outstanding Oriental authorities of the country is located.

This particular hobby grew from the possession of the sword which was bequeathed to Mr. Green from the estate of a widely-traveled friend. From that time to the present the collection has grown. Most of the pieces he got from James Hopkins, importer in St. Joseph. Mr. Green was informed lately, though, that the last boatload of Chinese brass had been received in America and that there would be no more ships for some time.

Dr. J. A. Pierce of Harvard reports that when a meteor of shooting star passes through the atmosphere many miles above the ground it leaves behind it a trail of broken atoms which may last for many minutes.

Sculptor or Whittler?

As a sculptor, Mr. Lon Wilson, director of the Quad, insists he is—well, just a whittler.

But he is glad now that Miss DeLuce once assigned his art appreciation class (Mr. Wilson is a graduate of the College) a lesson in soap carving. When he brought his "lesson" to class it wasn't just soft soap—it was a neatly done replica of the Discus Thrower.
From that day forward—when the Discus Thrower was "unveiled" before an appreciative art appreciation class—Mr. Wilson has done a great deal of "whittling," mostly in wood. He enjoys it. He said he did much whittling when he was a country school teacher, because there was nothing else to do when the rains came, and the snows, and the roads were blocked for weeks at a time.

The soap-carved Discus Thrower was entered in a national contest that year and received honorable mention. The information about this, however, came from Miss DeLuce—Mr. Wilson had forgotten about it.

Although he has carved many figures in wood—dogs, horses, people—he has not kept many of them. Anyone who happens in and admires one of his works of art is likely to receive it as a gift.
Mr. Wilson found that his ability to carve came in handy during the long illness of his little girl. He helped keep her amused by building her a doll house, complete with furniture which he made. It had electric lighting in it, too. With this and her radio she did not seem to mind staying in bed. She recovered and is now attending the Horace Mann laboratory school.

Mr. Wilson intends some day to try modeling in clay. But right now he is busy with his work at the Quad and has no time for art for art's sake.

The Stroller

Well, how do you feel after Walk-out Day? Especially all of the green freshmen? The Stroller is suffering from a bad case of that dreaded disease, the "hang-over from Walk-out day," coupled with refrigeration of the pedal extremities (quoting from Mr. Rudin) as a result of entirely too much walking. The freshmen are supposed to walk to town, but how about all of these upper-classmen who walk along with them? They suffer as much as the freshmen. The Stroller is going to originate a bill to furnish all upper-classmen with nice convertibles next walk-out day.

Monday morning the Stroller along with six hundred other students sat on the edge of his chair with one ear to the door, one toward the teacher, and both eyes glued on the window to see whether or not it was going to rain. The thought in every one's mind was "Rain, rain, go away, don't come back again today."

The Stroller wants to know if you have noticed the variety of hair-cuts, or perhaps he should say scalped locks floating around over our campus. Incidentally, the Maryville Daily Forum described these tonsorial master-pieces as "jobs no barber could ever do."

You've all heard that old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The advice the poor little freshman lad who wore four pairs of trousers plus two towels has to give to next year's freshmen is, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, if you don't get caught."

Leading the procession of Freshmen on Walk-out Day was none other than the dead end kid from Chicago, Joe "Yo Ho Girlies" Lauchiskis, who proved to everyone concerned that he had quite a temper. If you're wise boys, you'll avoid arousing little Joe's ire.

The front section of the theater at the Walk-out Day show created quite a disturbance. After all, "CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN AND NOT HEARD." Shame on you, boys!

The Stroller's orchids for the best entertainer in the show Monday goes to Joe Cook, the pinch-hit drummer from Tarkio. His antics greatly livened the show and the dance as well.

The Walk-out dance was indeed a success, especially for the taxi companies in Maryville. They did a rousing business. That was one dance where everyone stayed until it was over, but the downpour outside might have had something to do with that. The Stroller wished the dance would have lasted an hour or so longer and then he could have saved taxi fare.

Time supposedly marches on, but not where the Stroller is concerned. Jumping back to Saturday night, did you all hear about the lively initiation the M Club gave their new members. Quite the thing wasn't it? Complete with policemen, but fortunately no "black marias." Incidentally the Stroller wishes to apologize to the M club for calling them fraternity men last week. Maybe that apology should go to the fraternity men.

The Stroller was rather surprised to find Paul Wilson and Shirley Hallen in the backfield at the dorm the other day. Upon further inquiry, the Stroller discovered that Shirley is thinking of joining the Bearcat backfield and Paul is teaching her all the signals.

William Miller brought down the house in Mr. Garrett's eight o'clock social science class the other morning. Mr. Garrett had stated that three-fourth of the class were suffering from a cultural lag. He then asked Mr. Miller if he agreed. Mr. Miller did—indubitably. In answer to Mr. Garrett's why, Miller stated, "Because you say so."

The little notice in last week's column about the gentleman from Costa Rica has had its effect. Gentlemen prefer beauty gowns, and Alfredo is no exception. Good luck, Laveta.

Looking back over this poor excuse for a or athletics is noticeable. Walk-out only comes once a year—like Santa Claus—and deserves at least half a column to itself. Good-bye. The Stroller will be back next week, with a bigger and better column—he hopes.

Joe Lauchiskis had girl trouble Walk-out Day. He had one too many. Joe, benevolent that he is, attempted to remedy the situation by drafting Ted Woodward for the extra girl. Woodward didn't fare so well, however, as the other girl had, meantime, tired of waiting for Joe and secured another man for herself.

fore it had been used to speed the yearlings on their way through the belt line, it had been in excellent condition.

Insight of the fact that some freshmen, after the fracas was over, sported sore spots located so that sitting down was a difficult thing indeed, and in spite of the shortage of hair evidenced by other freshmen, most of the first year students seemed to be of the opinion that the fun of the day was well worth any difficulties which they had to endure.

Football Queen Will Reign Over Returning Grads

Coronation Ceremony to Take Place at Game Here Tonight.

Who will be Queen?
Mary Frances Todd, Mound City, Missouri.
Maxine Fowler, Albany, Missouri.
Betty Drennan, Corning, Iowa.
Shirley Hallen, Norfolk, Nebraska.
Or will it be
Vyvyan Dice, Maryville, Missouri?

Tonight one of these girls will be crowned Homecoming Queen at the half of the Springfield-Maryville football game. There will be special ceremonies, performed by the pep organizations and the marching band of the College. The queen will be crowned on a throne erected on a float.

The queen will also reign over the Homecoming Dance, which is being held in the Old West Library immediately after the game until 12:30. The college dance band will play.

The candidates for queen were chosen by the football boys, and will be voted on today, Friday the tenth, in the hall by the entire student body. Everybody is requested to vote.

The Homecoming queen is sponsored by the athletic and pep organizations in celebration of the return of former students who attend the annual district meeting of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association. The following committees have been selected to help make the dance a grand success.

General Chairman-Franklin Blithos
Decorating Committee: Mary Frances Todd, Chairman, Helen Johnson, Sue Moore, Jack Leuck, Marjorie Driftmeyer, Katherine Judson.

Property Committee: Bill Wright, chairman, Mary Margaret Phares, Laveta McQueen, Lynn Petri, P. A. Stewart.
Reconstruction Committee: Frank Ewing, chairman, Gene French, Jack Watson, Harvey Thompson, Gene Polk.

Faculty Sponsors Committee: Mary Frances McCaffrey, chairman, Mary Ann Busby.
Publicity Committee: Mary Frances Young, chairman, Marjorie Campbell, Connie Curnett, Beverly Blagg.

Independents Promise Dance on October 15

The Independents are going to have a party!

The above is news to students of the College who remember that the last party the Independents had was in the spring of 1939, when they held a picnic in the College Park.

This social affair will be held on the next regular meeting night of the Cooperative Independents, next Wednesday, Oct. 15, in the Student Center from eight to ten.

Barbara Kowitz and Herschel Bryant, co-chairmen of the committee planning the affair, announce that games, dancing, bingo, giving of door prizes, and serving of refreshments will be included in the evening's entertainment.

At the close of the party's activities, the vice-president of the Cooperative Independents will be chosen. Present officers are, Wallace Oursler, president, and Frances Smith, secretary-treasurer.

The organization, in which there are no fees or dues, counts as members all College students who do not belong to a sorority or a fraternity.

Tickets for the party, selling for fifteen cents, will be on sale beginning Monday.

Ursle Crockett Jr. Is Married in Washington

Miss Phillips Chappel, daughter of Mrs. R. T. Smith, Jr., of Opportunity, Wash., and Ursle Crockett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ursle Crockett of Maryville, were married September 28 at the home of the bride's mother.

The fireplace banked with bronze and white dahlias and white daisies formed the background for the ceremony performed by Rev. P. Ogsbee in the presence of relatives and friends. Miss Marjorie Prindle was bridesmaid and Albert Farley of Carrollton, Mo., acted as best man. Phil Crosbie sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception was held following the ceremony.

Mrs. Crockett graduated from Central Valley high school and Kinman's Business University. Mr. Crockett graduated from the MHS and attended the MSTC. He is with the second air force of headquarters and headquarters squadron in the parts department stationed at Fort George Wright Field, Spokane, Wash. Mr. Crockett is a member of the army quartet. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

General Education Is Theme of Meetings

A series of professional meetings of the faculty have been arranged for discussion of problems of General Education.

The first meeting will be held on October 16. At that time Dr. Frank Horsfall and Miss Mattie M. Dykes will discuss the 1941 Workshop of the General Education Study. Miss Dykes and Dr. Horsfall attended the Workshop in Chicago this summer from July 28 to August 29.

The second meeting, November 13, will be led by Miss June Cozine, who worked from January 1 with the General Education group in Chicago. Her topic will be "The Need for the Practical Arts in General Education."

University of North Carolina's original 1795 faculty of two members waited almost a month until the first student, Hinton James, walked 200 miles to enroll.

Lola Joan Bunch visited her parents of Craig last week-end.

Alumna of College Marries Business Man of Centralia

Williams-Toalson Wedding Takes Place at M. E. Church, South.

Miss Gara Williams of Maryville and Nathan A. Toalson of Centralia, were married Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church, South. The wedding was performed before a back ground of palms, white chrysanthemums, and lighted tapers. The child of the pews, reserved for the families were draped with wide satin ribbon held in place by a cluster of white flowers.

Preceding the ceremony Milton Bennett, Jr., of Jefferson City, played an organ prelude that included the following numbers: Ave Marie (Bach-Groun), "My Heart at Thy Voice" (Saint Saens), and "Liebestraum" (Liszt). Miss Virginia Mutz, soloist, sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" (Herbert) and "I Love You Truly" (Bond). The traditional wedding marches were used for the procession and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with a net yoke and tight fitting sleeves which came to a point at the hands. The full skirt formed a train and was gathered to a close fitting bodice. Her finger tip veil of ivory silk grided net was held in place by orange blossoms sent by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Margaret B. Orchard of Redono Beach, California. She carried a gilded satin covered prayer book and a single white orchid. A shower bouquet of forget-me-nots, tied with satin ribbons fell from the prayer book.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 427 East Seventh street. The serving table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake. Serving were Miss Virginia Sloan of Booneville and Mrs. Wendell Lehman of Wellsville. Those assisting were Mrs. William Person, Corning, Iowa; Miss Helen Leet, Jefferson City, and Miss Margaret Forbes, Maryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Toalson left following the reception for a trip through the Southwest. For traveling the bride wore a costume suit of brown wool with velvet trim. Her hat was sherry colored with a veil of dark brown and she wore chamomile gloves. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Toalson is a graduate of the Maryville high school and the College and the past three years has taught home economics in the high school at Centralia and the Simonson high school in Jefferson City. Mr. Toalson attended the University of Missouri and is now vice-president of the A. B. Chance company at Centralia.

W. Cook Is Named New Organization Sponsor

Mr. W. W. Cook has been chosen by the Barkatz to take the place of Mr. Surrey as sponsor of the organization. Among new students to join the organization are: Vivian Foley, Connie Bolan, Charibel Saunders, Margaret Irvin, Jean Gilpin, Barbara Kowitz, Dan Nordberg, Chester Parks, Raymond Hutchinson, Ralph Oshman, Lynn Wray, Lynn Petree, Emmett Lawson, Bill Osborne, Howard Madden, Marlon Clardy, Jack Leuck, Bill Heekin, Gene Polk, Richard Thomas, Kenneth Israel, and P. J. Jantz.

"Y" Notes

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. held a joint meeting in Room 103 Monday night. After a short worship service the setup of the various commissions was explained, and all members present chose the one to which they would belong during the year. Each commission then met separately and elected a chairman in order to discuss future plans.

The commissions are entitled: Campus Affairs, Religious Forum, Art Appreciation, Public Affairs, and Recreation. Each commission will present a number of programs during each quarter.

Spends Sunday at King City
Miss Mattie M. Dykes of the English department spent Sunday near King City at the home of her niece, Mrs. Clayton Guest and Mr. Guest. Mrs. Guest was formerly Miss Jean Dykes, who was graduated in the class of 1940. The guests entertained the Dykes and Martin families of King City in celebration of Mrs. Guest's father's birthday anniversary.

Advanced Group of Club Will Create New Dances

The Dance Club, sponsored by Miss Carruth, is now divided into two sections. The beginning women, or rather women who have not been members of the club before, are to meet on Tuesday nights from 7 to 8. The advanced women, or women who have been in Dance Club from 1 to 3 years, are to meet on Tuesday nights from 8:00 to 9:00 o'clock.

Plans are being made to present programs at the Twentieth Century club meetings and at the Residence Hall "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony. The advanced group is planning to create several new dances for these programs.

Book Club Will Meet

The Book Club will meet Monday evening, October 13, at 7:15 p. m. at the home of Dr. Anna Painter. Dorothy Henry, Mary Frances McCaffrey and Virginia Knapp will lead the discussion of the modern short story.

NYA Trainees Building New Equipment at Shop

N. Y. A. trainees in the advanced machine shop course offered in the Industrial Arts department of the College are busily engaged in the building of small woodworking machines which, when completed, will be put into effective use in the shops of the department. Being built are wood turning lathes, wood jointers, band saws, and drill presses.

Plans are being drawn for the building of welding tables and racks for the holding of various types of steel which will be installed in the almost completed new addition of the department. The steel racks will be built in the machine woodworking shop under the direction of Mr. Crozier, and the welding tables in the metal shop under the direction of Mr. Myers.

The new addition is complete, at present, with the exception of heating units which are now being installed. Some of the rooms of the building will be heated with registers, some with fans. Although it is now empty, the addition will soon be put into use by the department.

O'Neillians Announce Preparation of Play

"If the Dramatic interest on this campus continues with the same dynamic spirit with which its possessors have begun, you needn't be surprised at anything; perhaps a Broadway star will develop, or at least a Broadway production," says an enthusiastic O'Neillian.

Although the O'Neillians have not formally organized their club this year, a few believers in the "cause" have already been working diligently for about a week on the play entitled "Box and Cox." The cast consists of Mr. Cox, played by Glen Wengert; Mr. Box, played by Kenneth Israel; and Mrs. Bouncer, played by Ellis Brock. The play is an amusing comedy which relates the troubles of a man who attempts to rent an attic room to two different roomers. The comical mix-up promises to provide a very entertaining assembly program for October 29.

In an effort to help further the talents of those students interested in dramatics and related activities, Mr. Robert Main, professor of Speech and Dramatics, called a meeting Monday, September 29, for the purpose of electing officers for such a club. Because of the disagreeable weather, however, the attendance was not very good. The students present decided it would be better to postpone the election until the next meeting, and a committee of three, Avis Wengert, Kenneth Israel, and Marie Arnett, was appointed to select and present to the club at that meeting, eligible candidates for the offices.

The club anticipates a full program this year with enough variety in activity to keep all members interested. Correct methods in applying make-up, making scenery, producing plays and readings and practice in cutting and reading scripts are some of the activities the group expects to perform this year.

Regular meetings will be on the second and fourth Monday of each month. An invitation is extended to all new members who would like to participate in these activities.

Residence Hall Women Entertain New Faculty

The women of Residence Hall entertained the women of the faculty with a tea held in the Living Room of the dormitory last Sunday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. The tea was given in honor of the new faculty women.

The receiving line was composed of Miss Dorothy Truex, Miss Ruth Villars, Miss Marian B. Lippitt, Mrs. J. W. Jones, Miss Maxine Williams, Miss Alice Isley, Mrs. Heze Carter, Miss Ruth Nelson, Mrs. John Ruden, Mrs. M. C. Cunningham, and Mrs. Harold V. Neese. Miss Frances Krich and Miss Charlene Barnes poured.

College Sells Heifer Through Jersey Club

A registered Jersey heifer belonging to the College Farm was sold last Wednesday at Carthage, by the Missouri Jersey Cattle Club. Last year the College Farm also sold a cow at the sale which was held at Hannibal.

Mr. R. T. Wright, professor of agriculture and the farm manager, is a member of the club.

The heifer which was sold this year is 11 months old and was born and bred on the College Farm. The dam of this heifer has a record of 7,210 pounds of milk and 421.4 pounds of butterfat in 10 months. The College Farm also possesses a herd of 40 more registered Jersey cattle.

Strict milk and butterfat records are kept on all the cows milked on the farm. Since the herd was started about 15 years ago, only one female animal has been bought.

"Y" Notes

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. met last night in Room 103, The Campus Affairs commission, of which Jesse Lundy is chairman, conducted an informal, round-table discussion on the topic, "What's Wrong with Religion on the Campus?"

Other commission chairmen, elected last week, are: Public Affairs, Mack Jackson; Recreation, Ruth Pfander; Art Appreciation, Edna Ridge; Religious Forum, Irene Hoover.

Plans are in the making for a hay-rack ride and wolver roast to be held next Thursday evening if the weather permits. Installation proceedings for new members are to be held around the camp fire. Further announcements will be placed on the bulletin board.

Fears Were Groundless, Says Chicago President

CHICAGO, ILL. (AP)—The University of Chicago is getting along quite well without intercollegiate football, Pres. Robert M. Hutchins reports.

He said that when the sport was abandoned at the end of the 1939 season some persons feared the school's enrollment would suffer and alumni interest would cool. But he added: "As far as I can see, neither of these fears has been realized. Enrollment has been well maintained. Alumni interest is, I believe, at a higher pitch than at any time since the foundation of the university."

President Hutchins said intramural athletics are being promoted and expressed opinion that "the feeling of the university community about the abolition of football is one of relief."

Writers Club Meets

The Writers Club met Wednesday, October 1, at the home of Miss Mattie M. Dykes. Manuscripts submitted by the members were read and analyzed by the group. The meeting convened at 7:30 P. M. and closed at 9:30. It was decided that all future meetings of the group would close at that hour. The next meeting of the group will be on Wednesday, October 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorace Catterson of Russellville, Ark., have been visiting at the home of Mr. Catterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Catterson of Maryville. Mr. Catterson is a graduate of the College.

Hollis Holt visited her parents of Helena last week-end.

Annual American Education Week Is Set for Nov. 9-15

Mr. Homer T. Phillips Is Head of Local Group Planning Week.

The twenty-first annual observance of American Education Week has been set for November 9-15, 1941. The occasion will provide an exceptional opportunity for seeking public understanding and appreciation of schools and the place of education in national life. The theme for this year is "Education for a Strong America."

The National Education Association has prepared materials to assist in the planning for the observance in a school system, an individual school, and an individual classroom. Special packets are available for the following school levels: kindergarten-primary grades, elementary grades (fourth, fifth, and sixth), junior high school, and high school. Each packet contains a classroom supply of posters, leaflets, and stickers, a special manual for the proper school level, a folder for the following school levels: kindergarten-primary grades, elementary grades (fourth, fifth, and sixth), junior high school, and high school. Each packet contains a classroom supply of posters, leaflets, and stickers, a special manual for the proper school level, a folder for the following school levels: kindergarten-primary grades, elementary grades (fourth, fifth, and sixth), junior high school, and high school.

New features this year include a two-color button for pupils to wear, two musical plays, and a sound movie trailer, featuring Lowell Thomas. For complete information and prices, inquiries should be addressed to the National Education Association, 1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Local committees are at work on plans for the observance of Education Week on the College campus. Mr. Homer T. Phillips is chairman of the committee.

Varsity Villagers Install New Council Members

The Varsity Villagers, organization for women residing off the campus, held a chili supper at the Quadrangle preceding the Chadron-Bearcat game last Friday night. Council members were installed at a candle-light ceremony by Fern Randall, president of the organization. Group singing was led by Ruth Milliken. Alice Noland was chairman for the supper. She was assisted by Betty Steele, Jean Hefflin, Ruth Milliken, Mary Carolyn Schuster, and Doris Reed.

The Varsity Villagers are making plans for a Halloween party to be held the thirty-first of October. This party is to be in honor of the boys living in the Quadrangle. Irene Gault is general chairman for the party.

Bearcats Will Play First Conference Game Tonight

Springfield Has Strong Team; Were Conference Champs Last Year.

Many Homecomers Will View Game

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock the Maryville Bearcats will tangle with the Springfield Bears in the Cats' first conference football game of the season. This will be Maryville's homecoming game.

Last year the Springfield team defeated the Bearcats 13 to 0, winning the championship of the M. I. A. A. conference and the Bearcats had to be content with second position. Two years ago the Bearcats won 21 to 0 over the Bears, also winning the championship that year.

The Maryville Teachers have won two out of the three games which they have played. The records are: Maryville 7-East Kentucky 18, Maryville 13-Jefferson Barracks 0, Maryville 27-Chadron 6; Springfield 48-Durant 0, and Springfield 19-Pittsburg 0. Springfield has not been scored on this year.

Springfield has been described as having a very powerful aerial offensive again this year.

Texas Christian Uses New Numbering System

FORT WORTH, TEXAS.—(ACP)—Texas Christian University is using the new player numbering system being given a try-out at numerous schools over the country. The new system, inaugurated for the benefit of the spectators, aims to make it easier to follow the play and to know who's doing what down on the field.

All the ends wear a number in the 80's; tackles are numbered in the 70's; guards in the 60's; centers in the 50's; quarterbacks in the 40's; fullbacks in the 30's; left halfbacks in the 20's; and right halfbacks in the 10's.

In addition, in the line, the left ends, tackles and guards wear odd numbers; right ends, tackles and guards, even numbers.

College Cubs Meet Craig For League Game Here Today

The Horace Mann Cubs, with a 1,000 average thus far in the 275 league, will meet Craig here Friday afternoon in a six-man football game to which Coaches Harry Darr and Vic Farrell are looking with uncertainty.

Craig is at the bottom of the league, so far as victories are concerned, having lost three in a row. They are the team, however, which pushed Pickett, yardstick of the league, to 33 to 21 for a victory. The following week, they were dumped by Westboro 45 to 0 but came back against Fortescue to score two touchdowns while Fortescue ran up 31 points.

Although comparative scores, especially in a six-man game, are a poor index, Horace Mann has an 18 to 9 victory over Fortescue to match against the 31 to 14 victory of Fortescue over Craig.

Injuries are stabbing at the Cubs this week, although the coaches look for everyone to be in shape for tomorrow's game. Frank Baker, end, has a bad leg and Virgil Courtney, back, has a slight ankle sprain. Byrd Thompson, center, got a thumb hurt in practice.

The Cubs are in good spirits, however, and should be able to go strong against Craig.

Quad Highlights

The N. Y. A. men will be represented when the intramural basketball league begins.

The football playing, Allan McKim, Bruce Peters, and Bill Winters, sport injuries this week. Said injuries, however, were not obtained in the Chadron game. All three of the huskies received their injuries in practice sessions the week previous.

Shankland and Gene Trimble are the tuba blowing gentlemen whose efforts sometimes make sleep difficult for other residents of the Quad. They have been warned, however, and it is expected that both men will desist immediately from practicing on those great big things.

Although, almost to the man, the Quad residents supported the St. Louis Cardinals against Brooklyn in the hotly contested National League pennant race, they, for the most part, switched the loyalty to the Dodger nine in the recently completed World Series.

Basketball playing Quad residents attested to the fact Coach Wilbur Stalcup is going to get them into condition or kill them in the attempt before basketball season really gets underway. Ed Infira, for instance, is so tired following one of Coach Stalcup's sessions that he has difficulty in swallowing his food at the evening meals. What he needs most, he vows, is rest, not food.

W. A. A. Announces Its Plans and Purposes

From the Women's Athletic Association comes the following statement of its purposes and plans:

The Women's Athletic Association is the service organization of the college campus. The purposes are to provide wholesome recreation for the women, encourage better sportsmanship, and create an interest for recreational games. W. A. A. is not compulsory; each person comes to its meetings voluntarily. It is for all of the college women—you do not have to be a member.

Activities offered during the year are hockey, basketball, volleyball, and softball as the major sports. Many minor activities are offered such as, tennis, ping pong, archery, badminton, hiking, and swimming.

The officials of the games are students and respect for their ability and their officiating should be recognized as this carries over into collegiate games.

Opportunities to be taught new skills of these different sports are always present. One's health and physical fitness are always considered when being permitted to enter a seasons sport. A doctor's permit is required.

Playing games is a grand way to make new acquaintances and new friends; besides having a real hour of entertainment and "having fun". The informality of this organization causes non-campus students to become campus friends and makes close friendships that carry on.

W. A. A. receives no financial assistance from the college. Tonight this organization will have a concession at the Homecoming game. Buy a hot dog to help the service organization of this campus for the women—W. A. A. says, "BEAT SPRINGFIELD!"

"M" Club Initiates Are Given Thorough Hazing

Five men last week became full-fledged members of the M. Club following a week-long session of extensive initiation activities.

The men who were initiated are, Mark Russell, Robert Silvey, David Murphy, Bud Thompson, and Gordon Overstreet, all became eligible for membership in the organization through lettering in track last year. The organization is composed of those who have lettered in one of the major sports activities of the College.

Although the men did not become actual members of the club until after the final initiation last Saturday night, they were subjected to a thorough hazing during all of the preceding week. All came to classes in attire symbolic of the various major sports of the College and in the borrowed clothing of feminine friends.

In addition to their prowess on the cinder paths, two of the initiates participate in other activities of the College. Mark Russell is out for football this season and will play basketball when King Football steps out, and Robert Silvey is also on Coach Milner's grid squad.

Groups Meet Under Auspices of A. A. U. W.

The A. A. U. W. is holding a series of study groups on various subjects. One group, studying "Interior Decorating," met Monday evening at the home of the leader, Mrs. Charles R. Bell. The "Spanish Group" met the same evening at the home of Dr. Blanche Dow.

Another group, studying the "American Family," met Tuesday evening at the home of the leader, Miss Chloe Millikan.

Chadron Team Is Handed Defeat by Fighting Bearcats

Passing Attack Clicks to Account for Two Maryville Scores.

Last Friday night the Maryville Bearcats were again victorious, trouncing the Chadron Eagles, 27-6, here in their third non-conference football game this season. Several freshmen of the Maryville squad made favorable appearances and were given some good experience in the game. Three touchdowns came in the last three minutes of play—two were by Maryville.

Padilla plunged through center for 45 yards on the third play the first time the Bearcats held the ball. Then after a series of minor plays and an exchange of punts, Fletcher took the ball on through for the first score. The successful kick for the conversion by Gregory started Maryville leading 7-0. Soon after the kickoff, which followed the score, the first quarter ended.

Starting the second quarter Chadron kicked out on bounds on the mid-stripe, and the Bearcats again began advancing. First came a 10-yard run by Schmagel and then a 15-yard aerial gain from Schmagel to Totoraitis, next a line plunge by Padilla, followed by another pass for 12 yards from Schmagel to Wilson, making it Maryville's ball on the Eagle 11-yard line. After a couple of line plays, Schmagel again passed to Totoraitis who scored. Gregory's skilled foot lifted another kick tallying the extra point and moving the score up to 14-0 in Maryville's favor.

Chadron made a few good thrusts for 8 and 10 yards, by Bastron and Moore respectively, but were forced to kick after being thrown for a loss of 10 yards by tackles made by F. Myers and Glavin, and by a 5-yard off-side penalty. Willhite, Fletcher, and Wilson spurred action into the next plays but for little gain. E. Myers recovered an Eagle fumble on their 37 yard line; Schmagel shot a quick pass to Glavin for 7 yards more as the half ended.

In the third period no scoring was done. Bastron, Finkey, and Moore made some good Eagle gains but no serious threats to score. Schottel walloped a 60-yard punt. Later a Bearcat freshman, Vannoy, 140-pound backfielder from Aurora, Illinois, came on the field and for his first time to carry the ball in a college game picked up 15 yards through center. He followed that with another run for 4 yards. Then Schottel lugged the ball 10 yards more but lost the ball by a fumble on the Chadron 9-yard line ending the scoreless quarter.

After several plays and a punt Fletcher swung around end for 17 yards behind Myers' excellent blocking. Vannoy and Padilla appeared in some short runs. Once Vannoy attempted a pass, which was blocked by Chadron. The ball shot straight up coming down in Vannoy's hands. He caught his own pass but with a two yard loss! Soon after Adams, Bearcat freshman, took up 15 yards more of Eagle territory landing on the 25-yard line. Vannoy, Appleby, and Adams shared gains for two first downs. Schottel re-entered the game and passed to Vannoy who crossed the goal, but Maryville was off-side. After the 5 yard penalty they tried the same play which succeeded again, Vannoy scoring. Gregory converted once more making the score 21-0.

Maryville was penalized on the kickoff for a player failing to report before entering the game. On the re-kick-off Finkey, Chadron star, chased in and out among the scattered and confused Bearcats for 75 yards, scoring for Chadron. Chadron tried a run for the extra point but was unsuccessful.

Schottel whipped a pass to Glavin for 30 yards and followed with a 24-yard left end run to within 5 yard of the goal on two plays. In the next play he crossed the scoring line as the game ended, Maryville winning 27-6.

Top-ranking Scientists Will Meet in Wisconsin

MADISON, WIS.—(ACP)—Approximately 300 of the nation's top-ranking scientists, representing all of the physical and biological sciences, will discuss and report their studies and research at the fall meeting of the National Academy of Sciences at the University of Wisconsin October 13-15.

The national academy is the only scientific body with official government rank. President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed it "scientific adviser" to the government after it was founded in 1863.

Only once before, when it met at Wisconsin in 1925, has the academy convened west of Chicago.

Each academy member is entitled to present a 15-minute paper, and on the program will be about a dozen papers from younger Wisconsin scientists, not academy members. About 60 papers in all will be heard.

Private Latta Wants Northwest Missourian

Private Lloyd O. Latta, who was a member of the Quad group of last year, writes from Scott Field, Illinois, to ask that the Northwest Missourian be sent to him. He recalls the pleasures of being on the campus of the College before "Uncle Sam and I decided to become more intimate," as he says.

"Now I'm here in the Air Corps," he writes, "and am going to the Air Corps Technical School. . . . I really like army life and am glad to do something for this great nation."

Cubs Run Up 61 Points on Oregon

Horace Mann Gridsters Win Six-Man League Game by Decisive Score.

The Horace Mann Cubs plowed through to a 61 to 16 victory over Don Johnson's Oregon 6-man football club at Oregon last Friday. The Cubs scored easily, making at least one touchdown in every quarter. Oregon failed to score until the last two quarters.

The Cubs scored three touchdowns in the first quarter. Surplus opened the scoring when he went 20 yards through the line on a reverse. A pass, H. Dieterich to Surplus, went incomplete for the point. Horace Mann kicked off and held Oregon for downs. There was an exchange of kicks and Maryville gained 20 yards before Lance scored on a long run after twice reversing his field. Surplus carried the ball across for the extra point. Horace Mann kicked off and downed the ball in the end zone after an Oregon fumble for a touchdown.

Half Score 29 to 0

Oregon kicked off and Surplus returned the kick 20 yards to the Oregon 30. On the third play through the line, Courtney went over for a touchdown. Bob Burks, replacing H. Dieterich, carried the ball over for the extra point. The quarter ended as Horace Mann kicked off.

After playing in the middle of the field, Horace Mann fumbled and Oregon recovered. The Cubs held them for downs and Oregon kicked. On the first play, Lance dashed around left end for 20 yards and another Cub touchdown. H. Dieterich carried the ball through for the point. The score at the half was 29 to 0.

In the third quarter Baker took a 35-yard pass that ended over the Oregon goal. An attempted pass for the point went incomplete. Horace Mann kicked off but Oregon had to punt and Surplus returned the punt to the Oregon 17. On the first play, an end run by Jack Dieterich was good for another score. Burks' attempt through the line was spoiled.

Oregon Scores on Pass

Horace Mann kicked off and both teams were forced to punt. Oregon scored on a long pass from Adkins to Summers. Summers' kick was good. The score at the end of the quarter was Maryville 41, Oregon 8.

In the final period, Lance took a pass for 30 yards on a sleeper play. Surplus went over center for 18 yards and three plays later went over for another tally. Dieterich passed to Surplus for the point. Horace Mann kicked off and Oregon returned to their own 38. After two plays, a pass to Summers was good for the second Oregon score. Summers' kick was good.

Horace Mann returned the kickoff to midfield and a 20 yard pass and a 20-yard run by Sherlock took the ball to the Oregon 2 from where Herb Dieterich went around end for the touchdown. Lance's run for the point was stopped.

In the closing minutes, Jack Dieterich tossed a 5-yard pass to Surplus, who skirted the opposition and dashed 35 yards to make the final touchdown. Herb Dieterich passed to Jack Dieterich who leaped into the air to capture the ball for the point.

The lineups:

Maryville	Pos.	Oregon
Baker	LE	Cohler
Farmer	C	Metcalf
Sherlock	RE	Black
H. Dieterich	QB	Adkins
Lance	HB	Summers
Surplus	FB	Rhodes

Substitutions: Maryville—Adams, Jensen, Thompson, Hall, Kinman, McGinnis, Headrick, B. Burks, J. Dieterich, Courtney and Coutts. Oregon—Summers, Brown, Slipes, Kello, Ferguson, Mahaffey, Crowder.

Typewriter Companies Keep Machines Repaired

All of the L. C. Smith and Underwood typewriters in the typing room have been repaired by representatives of their respective companies. All major work is done by the companies' representatives who come three or four times a year. The typewriting classes keep the typewriters cleaned and oiled and change the ribbons when new ones are needed.

There are now twenty-seven typewriters available, and these are used by the typewriting and shorthand classes, as well as by some office assistants and students.

At Murray (Ky.) State Teachers College, 156 students hold "workships" under which they earn $22-993 a year.

Former Student Is at Work on Nodaway Map

Mrs. Frank W. Baker, formerly Miss Emma Hardin, who took a sixty-hour certificate from the College in 1917, is engaged in compiling material relating to old Indian trails, camps, and villages in Nodaway county. She asks that anyone having information on any of these matters report the facts to her. Her telephone is Hanam 4346.

Mrs. Baker's work is directed toward preparing a map of the county showing these details. The map is a project of the Nodaway chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Baker is regent of the chapter.

At present Mrs. Baker is a member of the A. A. U. W. study group doing creative writing under the leadership of Miss Mattie M. Dykes of the College faculty in English. She is the mother of Frank Baker, Jr., a graduate of last year.
